

MasterS Connection

Jefferson College of Graduate Studies MS Student eNEWS

Thesis Note

Please note that revised thesis guidelines were e-mailed to all MS students. There are some significant changes that primarily affect students starting the thesis process after Jan 07, such as the new Milestone Contract. So, please review. A hard copy of the guidelines can be picked up from JAH, M46.

Registration Reminder

Students can still register, by paper, for courses in the Spring II term which begins on March 26th. To view a list of courses being offered, along with their day, time, and location, visit:

www.jefferson.edu/jcgs

Save the Date

The JCGS graduation ceremony will be on Fri., June 1st, 2007.

Congratulations Award Winners

The Loretta Rocco Memorial Scholarship Fund was established in 1984 by the Rocco family in memory of Loretta, a 1974 graduate of Jefferson's Clinical Microbiology Program. The 2006-2007 winners are:

1. Kevin Redding
2. Menka Sanghvi
3. Munir Mosaheb

The Clinical Microbiology scholarship fund was established through the generosity of the Master of Science Microbiology Alumni, and it is intended for use in defraying the cost of textbooks and education expenses required for your graduate study. The 2006-2007 winners are:

1. Jemi Thomas
2. Anne Phan

Upcoming Events

Ellie Cantor, PhD, MBA, President, CJ Resources, Inc., an executive recruiting company

Tues. Feb. 13- 1-2PM 101 BLSB- Large general seminar on resume writing techniques
Thurs. Feb. 22- All day- Small group sessions to include peer review and speaker critique

Registration will be required for the small group sessions. Please e-mail Lisa Kozlowski if you would like to attend.

March 22, 2007: 9-11AM, 105 BLSB & 1-3PM, 105 BLSB
 Scientific Presentation Skills Seminar
 Presented by Lisa Marshall from Edge, Inc.

Lisa Marshall has worked with numerous scientific groups, postdocs, faculty, engineers, etc. on improving their presentation skills.

Seating is limited and registration is required. Please e-mail lisa.kozlowski@jefferson.edu if you would like to attend.

Alumni Travel Fellowship– Next Deadline Feb 1

The Alumni Travel Fellowships are used to partially defray the cost of attending a symposium at which the student is making a presentation related to the student's graduate study. Two separate award pools are established for doctoral and master of science degree students. Guidelines for applications can be picked up in JAH in M-46.

Edited by: Lisa Chosed. Comments & Suggestions: 3-0154 or Lisa.Chosed@Jefferson.edu