

Jefferson Center for Applied Research on Aging and Health
September 17, 2008

A NEW AGE IN DEMENTIA CARE: TURNING EVIDENCE INTO PRACTICE

MORNING SESSION

PRESENTATION TOPIC AND SPEAKER

CORRESPONDING SCENE/TIME

Welcome and Introduction

Laura N. Gitlin, PhD
Catherine V. Piersol, MS, OTR/L (including video)
Janice P. Burke, PhD, OTR/L, FAOTA

Scene 4, 7:58 - Scene 8, 14:46
Scene 8, 14:46 – Scene 11, 27:08
Scene 11, 27:08 – Scene 14, 32:12

Part I: Innovation in Evidence-based Clinical Services

Janice P. Burke, PhD, OTR/L, FAOTA

Scene 14, 32:14 – Scene 15, 33:05

Collaborative Care Models for Alzheimer's disease: Challenges and Prospects for Primary Care

Christopher M. Callahan, MD

Scene 15, 33:17 – Scene 39, 59:51

Integrating Assessment of Families into Everyday Practice in Dementia Care

Lynn Friss Feinberg, MSW

Scene 39, Middle – Scene 55, Beginning

A Policy Perspective: Emerging Conclusions from the Alzheimer's Study Group Regarding the Delivery of Dementia Care

Robert Egge

Scene 55, Middle – Scene 61, End

Reaction and Questions

Barry W. Rovner, MD
Barry J. Jacobs, PsyD
Questions from the Audience

Scene 62, Beginning – Scene 68, End
Scene 69, Beginning – Scene 76, Middle
Scene 76, Middle – Scene 79, Middle

Part II: Innovation in Training Health Professionals

Catherine V. Piersol, MS, OTR/L

Scene 94

Implications of New Care Models for Competencies of Health Professionals

Susan Reinhard, PhD, RN, FAAN

Scene 95 – Scene 107

Bridging Philosophy & Practice: Understanding Concepts that Enhance Clinical Models of Cultural Competency and Proficiency

Leslie M. Swann, PhD

Scene 107, Beginning – Scene 122, Middle

Reaction and Questions

Christine Arenson, MD

Scene 122, Middle – Scene 126, End