

A Word From The Writing Center (March 2017)

LEARNING OPPORTUNITY

Studies have shown that successful writers foster specific habits that help them flourish and make the process of writing less mysterious. Learn about these habits, and how to use them to achieve your own writing goals, by attending the workshop 5 Habits of Successful Writers and Ways to Foster Them in Your Writing on Thursday, March 23, at noon. Free registration available here: <http://library.jefferson.edu/tech/training-5.cfm>. A list of other upcoming workshops from the Center for Teaching and Learning can be found at: <http://library.jefferson.edu/tech/training.cfm>.

BOOKS ON WRITING

Have questions about turning a doctoral dissertation into a journal article? Find answers in chapter 11 of Journal Article Writing and Publication: Your Guide to Mastering Clinical Health Care Reporting Standards (WZ 345 G984j 2017) by Sharon Gutman, former editor of the American Journal of Occupational Therapy. The new book also provides practical guidance on structuring your manuscript and reporting statistical data.

WRITING CAFÉ

Open every Friday in March from 9am-11am: Writing Café is a quiet space where writers can gather to work on individual writing projects. It is located in room 200A of Scott Library. Drop in anytime and stay as long as you like. All you need to bring is your laptop (or just a pad of paper).
