

The Pretend Spaceship Ride

I am going for a little adventure!

I am going for a ride in my car. I am going with my mom and dad. We will be in the car for a while. We are going to the city!

When we get there, we will park in a garage. We will take a walk. I will hold my mom's hand. I will look both ways before we cross the street.

When we get to the building, we will go in the elevator. We are going up to the second floor; I will get to push the number 2 button! When the door opens, we will look for the signs for the lab.

I will meet a nice lady named Miss Kim or Miss Teal. She is going to talk to my mom and dad. I will go and color with Miss Kim's or Miss Teal's friend for a little while. Maybe I will draw the planets for her or show her how I like to write my numbers. Miss Kim's or Miss Teal's friend might be giving me some directions. I will listen to her and follow her directions as best as I can. I will be working for stickers and when I'm all done I'll get to pick out a toy!

After that, Miss Kim or Miss Teal is going to put some stickies on my belly and back. Then she'll wrap my hand with a special band to keep the stickers on. It won't hurt me -- it might even tickle! I am going to try to be still and follow Miss Kim's or Miss Teal's directions. I will get more stickers for good behavior and good listening!

Then comes the best part! I get to go on a pretend spaceship ride! I am going to hear some things with my ears. I am going to see something with my eyes. I am going to feel something on my skin. I am going to smell something. I am going to feel my chair move! This is where I get to show everyone what a big kid I am! I am going to watch and listen. I am going to stay in my seat. I am going to have a quiet mouth and quiet hands. I know that I can do it! I will make everybody so proud of me!

On the way home, we will talk about my good behavior and about how much fun the day was. I will tell my mom and dad what part I liked the best.
