The Jefferson Urology Society is a student-run organization that provides medical students with the opportunity to learn more about the exciting and dynamic field of Urology. The goal of the society is to promote interaction between students, residents and faculty via informational sessions, research, shadowing opportunities and charitable events. The organization also works to provide interested students with faculty mentors who serve as role models and advisors for students who are interested in pursuing a career in urology.

The purpose of the Jefferson Urology Society registry is to strengthen the relationship between students and faculty, throughout one's four years of medical school. Students will receive e-mails about upcoming Urology Society events and learn about research and volunteer opportunities. In addition, the registry will allow faculty to stay in touch with interested students, and to help them in their career decisions (whether they be within the field of Urology or elsewhere).
