Brought to you by the Dean of Students Office

A quick reference guide for recognizing, responding to, and referring distressed students.

HOW TO USE:

1. Recognize indicators of distress Common indicators are listed inside. Students may present with indicators not listed.

2. Respond appropriately Each situation is unique. Use the tips and decision tree to determine the most appropriate response.

3. Refer the student

Use the list of resources on back cover to refer the student to the most appropriate campus resource.

RECOGNIZE Indicators of Distressed Students

Look for groupings, frequency, and severity of behaviors, not just isolated symptoms.

Academic

- Sudden decline in quality of work and grades
- Frequently missed classes and assignments
- Disturbing content in writing or presentations
- Classroom disruptions
- Consistently seeking personal rather than professional advice
- Multiple requests for extensions/special considerations (a change from prior functioning)
- Doesn't respond to repeated requests for contact/meetings

] Marked changes in physical appearance (e.g., poor grooming/ hygiene or sudden weight loss/gain)

Physical

- Strange or bizarre behavior indicating loss of contact with reality
- Visibly intoxicated or smelling of alcohol or marijuana
- Rapid speech or manic behavior
-] Depressed or lethargic mood or functioning
- Observable signs of injury (e.g., facial bruising or cuts)

Psychological

- Self-disclosure of personal distress (e.g., family problems, financial difficulties, assault, discrimination, legal difficulties)
- Unusual/disproportionate emotional response to events
- Excessive tearfulness, panic reactions
- Verbal abuse (e.g., taunting, badgering, intimidation)
- Expressions of concern about the student by peers

Safety Risk

- Verbal, written, or implied references to suicide, homicide, assault or self-injurious behaviors
- Unprovoked anger or hostility/physical violence (e.g., shoving, grabbing, assaulting, use of weapon)
- Academic assignments dominated by themes of extreme hopelessness, helplessness, isolation, rage, despair, violence, self-injury
- Stalking or harassing
- Communicating threats/ disturbing comments via email, correspondence, texting or phone call

RESPOND

Use these tips to determine the most appropriate response for a distressed student.

Stay Safe

Call Public Safety first at (215-951-2999) or 911 if there is an imminent danger to the student, you, or anyone else.

Take a few deep breaths to calm yourself. Use a calm voice asking

when talking and questions.

Use Active Listening

Ask Direct Questions

Take Your Time

Stay Calm

If this is NOT an imminently dangerous situation, take time to think through what might be the most helpful next step.

Give Concrete Help

Mandatory Reporting

In addition to referring a student to resources, any sexual or gender-based harassment or assault requires mandated reporting. For questions regarding mandated reporting, please contact the Dean of Students Office at (215) 951-2740.

Make eye contact, give your full attention. Restate what the student says to make sure you understand what is causing the distress and/or what they are asking for help with.

Don't be afraid to directly ask the student if they are having thoughts of harming themselves or others (by asking, you are not instilling the thought).

Help get them to the next step (e.g., contact the academic advisor with the student to make an appointment; help them call Counseling Services to schedule an appointment).

Seek Consultation

You are not alone. Ask those around you for help. Consult with a colleague, call another office on campus (see resources).

REFER

Follow the decision tree to determine who to contact when you are concerned about a student who is distressed and/or disruptive. Emergency and campus resources are listed.

Is the student a danger to themselves/others OR does the student need some other assistance?

Sure

The student's conduct is clearly dangerous or threatening, including self-harm or harm to others.

I am not concerned for anyone's immediate safety, but the student is having significant academic and/or personal issues and could use some support.

The student is with me currently and shows signs of distress, but it is not clear how serious it is. I feel uneasy and/or really concerned about the student.

l'm Not The student is not with me currently, but I am concerned about what they said (in an email/call) OR what they did (acted bizarrely, were aggressive/disruptive) OR how they looked (unkempt, unwashed, or as if drugged/drunk).

Public Safety: 215-951-2999 AND 911
