Any sociology course will meet this prerequisite or cultural anthropology. If a student's institution does not offer cultural anthropology, a course that covers multiple cultures and/or ethnicities from a broad perspective based in anthropology or the social sciences will be accepted.

*Any English course or officially designated writing intensive course will meet the prerequisite.

Prerequisite Coursework Requirements:

- All prerequisite courses are required to be completed at a regionally accredited institution before you enter the program.
- The majority of prerequisite courses (over 50%), including at least one science, should be completed at time of application. Not all prerequisite courses are required to be completed at time of application.
- All math and science prerequisite courses (Statistics, A&P I and II and Physics) are required to be completed within 7 years of application to Jefferson.
- Prerequisite courses can be completed in an on-campus, hybrid or online format.
- Prerequisite courses are required to be completed with a grade of "B-" or above. A grade of "C+" or below will not meet the prerequisite requirement.
- Prerequisite credit can be earned for prerequisite coursework, which is not math or science, through standardized tests such as PA, IB & CLEP, pending department approval.
- Credits are calculated on a semester scale; if courses are taken on a quarter scale, the credit hours will be converted to the semester credit scale.

Transfer Equivalency Guides: Jefferson has collaborated with many colleges & universities to provide applicants with a list of the equivalent coursework that will meet Jefferson's prerequisite courses. Please visit our website at <http://www.jefferson.edu/university/admissions-office/partners-transfer.html>. If there is not a guide for your college or university, as long as it is a regionally accredited institution, we accept prerequisite coursework from your institution.
