Financing Your Education at Jefferson

At Jefferson, our knowledgeable financial aid staff is glad to advise you on ways to meet the costs of your education. In 2009–2010, more than $39 million in financial aid was awarded to our graduate and undergraduate health professions students. A combination of grants, loans, scholarships and work-study employment contributed to this amount. Approximately 72 percent of Jefferson students receive some form of financial assistance through federal, state, institutional and/or private sources.

Financial aid awards are based on the level of available funding and on each student's:

- financial need
- enrollment status
- housing status

All students interested in applying for financial aid should contact the University Office of Student Financial Aid or go to our website www.jefferson.edu/financialaid for more information. This office maintains a complete listing of financial aid resources including:

- federal, state and institutional aid
- grants, loan programs and work-study options
- competitive grants from area hospitals and healthcare institutions that pay full or partial tuition costs for selected students, in return for a commitment to work as a paid employee after graduation.

After January 1, applications for admission and financial aid may be made at the same time. Accepted students can complete their financial aid application online while applicants may contact the office for a paper financial aid application. Please do not wait until after you are accepted for admission to apply for financial aid, as this may delay the award process.

The Federal Stafford Student Loan Program

The Federal Stafford Student Loan Program is your foundation for building a strong financial aid package. Here's what you need to know:

- Students may apply for subsidized funding of up to $5,500 (undergraduate) or $8,500 (graduate) per year. However, actual eligibility will be determined by the school based on cost of attendance, need and actual grade level. (See page 7 for more information.)
- All students applying for Federal Stafford Loan funds must complete a Master Promissory Note (MPN) with the Federal Direct Student Loan Program. By signing the MPN, the student acknowledges the responsibility to repay the loan debt. The MPN is completed only the first year and will also be used to request loan funds in future years. Information about completing the MPN is available on the University Office of Financial Aid website www.jefferson.edu/financialaid/fsl.cfm.

Additional Sources of Aid

The chart on pages 6-9 lists a variety of financial aid sources, but there are many others to consider. Employers, healthcare agencies and private organizations often provide financial assistance to students. To access information regarding these programs and other outside scholarship information, go to our website at www.jefferson.edu/financialaid and review information under the topic "Outside Scholarships." You should also investigate your public library, the Web, and local church, fraternal or service organizations to find additional sources of financial aid. Also see pages 10-11 in this booklet for a list of special scholarships and loans offered by the University.

Frequently Asked Questions

The following are answers to common questions we receive from our students.

When should I apply for financial aid?

Starting in December/January, financial aid information is sent to all active admissions applicants. At this time, accepted students will be emailed instructions as to how to complete the TJU Financial Aid Application online. However, you do not have to wait until you are accepted to begin the financial aid application process. Certain applications, such as the FAFSA, can be completed prior to acceptance. We recommend that you start as soon as possible. Awards are processed on a date-order basis, so the earlier your application is complete, the earlier you will be notified about your eligibility for assistance. Please see our website for more immediate application process information at www.jefferson.edu/financialaid/main\_apply.cfm.

Does my application for financial aid affect the admission decision?

Absolutely not. Applications for financial aid and admissions are separate procedures. Your application for financial aid in no way influences the admissions decision.

I've already earned a bachelor's degree. What aid can I apply for?

You can apply for all sources of aid except the Federal Pell Grant, the Federal Supplemental Educational Opportunity Grant and the Pennsylvania State Grant. With other financial aid programs (Federal Perkins and Federal Stafford), your award may be limited by the amounts you have previously borrowed.

As a part-time student, am I eligible to apply for financial assistance?

Yes, as long as you are a matriculated student in a degree or certificate program and are taking at least 6 credits (undergraduate) or 5 credits (graduate) per term. The amount of aid you receive will be determined by the number of credits taken and tuition costs of each term. Most aid is not available to students taking 5-6 credits or fewer per semester. Part-time students need to complete an Educational Plan, which is available online or from the University Office of Financial Aid, in addition to other required forms.

What is the University's course withdrawal policy?

To withdraw from a course, a student must complete the Course Withdrawal form from the University Office of the Registrar. Students who stop attending classes without filing the required form will be responsible for the full payment of tuition and will receive a grade of "F." Verbal notification to the course instructor does not constitute an official course withdrawal. Withdrawal may impact eligibility for aid or deferments on payment of student loans.

If the withdrawal is authorized, the student will receive the following grade, based on the date of withdrawal and performance in the course at the time of withdrawal.

- If withdrawal is authorized prior to the date published in the Academic Calendar, the student will receive a grade of “W.”
- After that date, a grade of “WP” (Withdrew-Passing) or “WF” (Withdrew-Failing) will be assigned.
- A grade of “WF” is calculated in the grade point average in the same manner as “F.”

When will I know if I have received financial aid?

The University begins announcing award decisions in early spring for September enrollment and in early fall for January enrollment. Federal and state funding procedures may influence the date when awards can be made. Financial aid status for accepted students may be viewed on Banner Web.

Does the University offer a tuition payment plan?

Yes. Thomas Jefferson University participates in the Tuition Management Systems plan. This program allows full-time students to pay tuition costs over a 10-month period. For more information, contact the Office of Student Accounts at 215-503-7669 or Tuition Management Systems (TMS) at 800-356-8329 or www.afford.com.

What is the University’s tuition refund policy?

(The Tuition Refund Policy printed here was in effect at the time this publication went to print. This policy is currently under review. Once the new policy is finalized, it will be posted under University Policies on Pulse.) A student who withdraws from the College or is dismissed for unsatisfactory academic or clinical performance, or who is granted a leave of absence, may request a refund of tuition fees in accordance with the following conditions:

Separation Within	Applicable Refund
1st and 2nd week of classes:	75 percent
3rd and 4th week of classes:	50 percent
5th week and thereafter:	0 percent

Students may receive a refund only on funds they have paid. The effective date of withdrawal is the date on which the student’s written request for withdrawal is received and accepted in the University Registrar’s Office. No student will be granted a withdrawal or a leave of absence who has not paid in full all of his/her obligations. A student who is suspended or dismissed because of a violation of School or University regulations shall receive no refund.

For detailed information, please refer to the Catalog or Student Handbook at www.jefferson.edu/studentlife/cat.cfm.
