

Law and Society

COLLEGE of HUMANITIES and SCIENCES

Jefferson
Thomas Jefferson University

CAREER and INTERNSHIP HIGHLIGHTS

Our students secure real-world internships in Congress, the U.S. Senate, the Republican and Democratic National Committees, the United Nations, FBI, ATF, the Attorney General and Prosecutor's Office, and law offices and non-profit organizations dedicated to helping the unfortunate and protecting civil rights.

Recent graduates continue to law school, work in criminal justice, on police forces, Homeland Security and Secret Service; in the public sector in state and local government offices including Congress, the Senate; and on major political campaigns.

Jefferson is known for crossing disciplines to reimagine the way students learn with an approach that is collaborative and active; global; integrated with industry; focused on research across disciplines to foster innovation and discovery; and technology-enhanced. As a national doctoral research university, Jefferson delivers high-impact professional education in 160 undergraduate and graduate programs to 7,800 students in architecture, business, design, engineering, fashion and textiles, health, social science and science.

Human interactions and environments are the focus of the Jefferson College of Humanities and Sciences, where we take an interdisciplinary approach to learning at the intersections of the liberal arts with the social and behavioral. Our students are prepared to succeed in the professional realm or to continue their academic studies at a higher level. No matter which path they choose our graduates are valued for their integrative thinking, collaborative work ethic and global perspective.

PROGRAM HIGHLIGHTS

- Learn in student-led classrooms focusing on real-life scenarios and criminal cases; you'll examine real-life trials, like the O.J. Simpson trial, from the beginning of class.
- Write for the Digital Voice, our Law and Society newspaper focusing on social issues.
- Host your own podcast on the Law and Society Podcast Network, our student-run station.
- Lead or participate in the Roxboro House Roundtables—a nationally recognized source of political and social issue discussion.
- Become an effective leader by learning to advocate in writing and/or by speech.
- Prepare to apply to law school or work from day one; many students go on to get their master's in criminal justice.
- Become inspired to lead and affect change within the world through programs affiliated with the Arlen Specter Center for Public Service, dedicated to educating students in public advocacy, social justice, new media and more.

Jefferson.edu/BSLawSociety

Curriculum

YEAR

1

Introduction to Law and Society
Crime and Justice
American Government
Pathways Seminar
Writing Seminar I: Written Communication

American Studies
Science I
Mathematics
Free Electives (3)

2

Comparative Legal Systems
Constitutional Law/Supreme Court
Conspiracies Theories
Science II
Ethics

Writing Seminar II: Multimedia Communication
Global Diversity
Forensics Law
Law & the Workplace
Free Elective (3 credits)

3

International Law
Legal Research, Writing and Moot Court
Law and Ethics
Law, Media and Society

American Diversity
Global Citizenship
Contemporary Global Issues
Integrative Seminar

4

First Amendment: Senior Seminar
Senior Capstone: Public Policy Advocacy
Minor Courses (6 credits)
Capstone Folio Workshop

Law: Women and Gender
Law Enforcement
Free Electives (9 credits)

