CLASS OF 2020

“My goal, as a project manager, was to establish a solid business acumen and ramp up my knowledge in finance and accounting. The iMBA program at Jefferson was rewarding and shaped a holistic experience and equipped me with the tools I needed to reach my career goals.”
Razmig Yeremian
Philadelphia, PA
CLASS OF 2020

"The faculty at Jefferson University’s Innovation MBA Program taught me the core essentials business leaders need to drive value to the market today: the ability to inspire, the ability to outreach, and the ability to manage organizational objectives in-line with with internal stakeholders and that of the environment at large. I learned that the market needs ideas which can help companies differentiate themselves from their peers, and the only way to accomplish such a task, is through innovative business approaches which meet the needs of an ever-changing environment. Thanks to Jefferson's Innovation MBA Program, I feel that I am well-prepared to take on such a task."
Professor Raymond R. Poteau, CPA, CGMA, MBA
PROFESSOR OF ACCOUNTING

Professor Poteau spent over a decade as a professional accountant first in public accounting and later in executive level health care financial management positions. As a partner and instructor in national CPA review courses, he has prepared thousands of students to pass the rigorous CPA examination during his career. His specialties include financial accounting & reporting and auditing and he has written textbooks and journal articles that inform the classroom in these areas. He holds numerous awards including, the Lindback Distinguished Teaching Award, the Pennsylvania Institute of CPAs Outstanding Accounting Educator Award, the University President’s Award for Teaching Excellence, as well as School of Business outstanding teaching, service, and research awards.

“My greatest reward from teaching by far occurs whenever I hear about the great successes of past students”
Professor Jason Crook
MARKETING, TEACHING ASSISTANT PROFESSOR

MBA, Thomas Jefferson University
BS (Cum Laude) Psychology & Business Administration, Gardner-Webb University

Jason is a successful entrepreneur - active not only in the classroom, but also the business community. Prior to his entrepreneurial and academic endeavors, Jason served as Director of Marketing Research at a Philadelphia-based national advertising agency and Director of Corporate Branding for a pharmaceutical marketing organization. In 2006, Jason was granted a US patent as the co-inventor of a “Method and System for Analyzing Effectiveness of Marketing Strategies.”
